Eugene Wallace, Convicted in Clayton, Throws Himself on Mercy of Court and Gets Two Years in Penitentiary.

Eugene Wallace, who was convicted in the Clayton Circuit Court on a charge of bigamy, yesterday informed Judge McFl-hinney that he was tired of lying in jai and expressed a desire of withdrawing further defense of his case and throwins himself on the mercy of the court. His punishment was fixed at two years' im-prisonment.

himself on the mercy of the court. His punishment was fixed at two years' imprisonment.

Wallace married Maud Erskine of Centaur inst Thanksgiving Day at Glendale. At the time he had two other wives living, having falled to get a divorce from either. His duplicity was not discovered until about four menths, when he was arrested, and has since been in jail, part of the time in St. Louis and part of the time in Clayton.

It was not discovered until the time of the trial that Wallace had a third wiffiliving. Prosecuting Attorney Johnson then filed an additional information against him, charging bigamy, but thicase will probably be dropped, if Wallace goes to the Penitentiary under his present conviction. Judge McEhlnney has already overruled his motion for a new trial and he has until the adjournment of the term, which will probably be about the last of December, to file his affidavit for an appeal.

WOMAN'S NERVES!

To all sick women and girls:

It's not strange that you suffer from nerves. That you nervously wiggle your feet, twitch your eyelids, and that your hand trembles and shakes.

Women's nerves are much more sensitive than men's.

The pounding of daily worries on your nerves soon shreds them out to a fine frazzle, and you feel sometimes as though you would have to let go and scream.

Don't scream.

Take Cardui.

It lets down your nerves, and nurses them back to health on a soft bed of repose.

Every woman, young and old, should use Wine of Cardui whenever she feels her health is in any way impaired.

And this because Cardui is a specific, curative remedy for women—a cure for the cause of women's ills, a pure vegetable medicine that regulates women's health functions.

You must realize that as a woman, your system is only too easily disordered.

So very many important functions of your body must operate just right or sickness results.

So many little things may so easily put your system out of order. To keep it in order, take

I received treatments from some of the finest doctors in this large city without relief. After spending Hundreds of Dollars, by advice of a very dear friend I took Wine of Cardut, and from the very first bottle, I can truthfully say, I began to improve. I have now taken eight bottles and lock and feel like a different woman. Am gaining flesh and eat well. You have my full and
